The United Arab Emirates, UAE

Ms. Modla started doing business in the UAE in mid 2007 and has since had 3 business trips to Abu Dhabi and Dubai with the goal of expanding her business. "The UAE is one of the most exciting, elegant and intriguing countries I have ever visited. The Emirati people are welcoming and have the highest level of professionalism. As an American businesswoman, I always feel welcomed in all business negotiations and meetings."

The UAE is expanding and growing at a tremendous rate. Upcoming projects in Abu Dhabi alone are in the trillions of dollars. The circuit for the Abu Dhabi Grand Prix will be built on Yas Island, a natural 2,550 hectare island located to the east of Abu Dhabi island. Along with The World-Class FIA Sanctioned Race-track, Yas Island will feature a Ferrari Theme Park, signature hotels, golf courses, a 300,000 square meter retail area. Abu Dhabi is also the future home of the largest Guggenheim Museum in the world. Designed by Frank Gehry it will be one of the major attractions located in the cultural district of Saadiyat Island.

The UAE is comprised of 7 emirates: Abu Dhabi (the capital), Ajman, Dubai, Fujairah, Ras Al-Khaimah,

The Emirates Palace Hotel, Abu Dhabi

Sharjah, and Umm Al-Quwain. Total land size of The UAE equates to the size of the state of Maine.

If you would like to discuss doing business in the UAE or another Gulf State, please contact Ms. Modla.

Speaking Engagements and Conferences Attended

Ms. Modla has given seminars and presentations to the translation community over the past few years in New York City. Last year she was a featured speaker at the 48th Annual ATA National Conference in San Francisco, CA. Ms. Modla co-presented with the former president of ATA, Ms. Marian Greenfield, a freelance translator and translation industry consultant, addressing the issues of building, marketing and expanding independent translators' businesses. "The translation industry generates more than a billion dollars per year so there is plenty of work for all of us whether a large, medium or small sized translation firm."

In November of this year, Ms. Modla attended the 11th Annual USACE, United States Army Corps of Engineers Small Business Conference, in St. Louis, MO. She met with many Army Corps Engineers as well as engineering firms and small businesses who work with the Army Corps of Engineers. Ms. Modla worked on a project for the Corps of Engineers which provided all translation and interpretation for the project and anticipates more international projects in the coming years.

If your company is interested in collaborating on international projects with the Army Corps of Engineers and anticipate the need for translation and or interpretation services, please contact KLM Global Group, LLC.
